

A-Licensed Mechanic

Titan Airways has a vacancy for a permanent, full time A-Licensed Mechanic to join our Engineering team, based primarily at London Stansted Airport, Essex.

The main duties and responsibilities of the role are:

- Performing and certifying Line maintenance tasks as requested within the scope of company authorisation, in a timely manner in an often-demanding environment
- Completion of the tasks allocated on a shift by shift basis by the Shift Supervisor/Station Engineer or as part of routine duties, in accordance with the procedures detailed in the MOE
- Representing the Company in an acceptable manner
- Supervision duties in respect of support staff and third party providers
- Ensuring that the cleanliness and interior trim of the aircraft are maintained at all times to the high standard required by the Company
- Ensuring that the engineering facility, vehicles and equipment are kept clean and serviceable
- Maintain awareness and consideration of Human Factors, Safety Management System and the Company Health & Safety Policy
- Any other duties as requested by the Station Engineer or Shift Supervisor

The following requirements are essential for this role:

- Ideal candidates must hold a UK CAA + EASA - PART 66 Licence and have experience on at least two of the following aircraft/engine types: A320 Cfm/V2500 + Leap, A330 RR, B737 CL, B757 RR
- Candidates must have excellent communication skills with a flexible approach
- Be willing to work away from base to support company operations and to be able travel at short notice
- Shift work with a mix of days/nights (predominately nights during the summer months), working a 5x5x4 shift pattern
- Full and valid Driving Licence
- Valid passport with the ability to reside and work in the UK. (Pre-settled, settled status share code or citizenship application will be required if shortlisted to interview)
- Fully vaccinated against COVID-19 (unless medically exempt)
- Be computer literate
- Ability to provide information for 5 year referencing
- Ability to pass a pre-employment drugs and alcohol screening
- Tug driving experience would be advantageous
